

Clinical Case Formulation for Complex Cases--workshop.

Stephen N. Haynes

Clinicians often encounter clients with multiple behavior problems (depression, anxiety, marital problems, substance use, personality disorders), comorbidity, challenging life situations, and many interacting causal factors. This workshop will provide a framework for making the best treatment decisions for these complex cases, based on a functional analysis approach to clinical case formulation