

The Triple P-Positive Parenting Program: A multilevel system of intervention for the prevention and management of social, emotional and behavioural problems in children.

Matthew Sanders

This workshop provides an overview of the Triple P-Positive Parenting Program, a multi-level system of evidence based parenting interventions. This session concentrates on the enhanced intensive level of intervention for complex presentations. Case examples and illustrations of the core self regulation principles and strategies used in Pathways Triple P for parents with anger management problems and dysfunctional parenting will be described.
